Way to Detect Quakes Found

Sound Waves Basis For New Method

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A team of government scientists disclosed today a completely new way to detect earthquakes, tornadoes and other natural phenomena at great distances.

The new technique has uncovered also the existence of a mysterious movement in the earth's air mass at intervals of five to seven seconds.

Sound waves that cannot be heard are the basis for the findings. They are far too slow to be audible. They are called infrasound.

First reports on the research were given to the Acoustical Society of America by Dr. Richard K. Cook and Dr. J. M. Young, physicists of the National Bureau of Standards. They also talked to reporters.

If you enunciated a single sound, such as the letter O, into a tape recorder and then slowed down the tape so the playback would be drawn out to about 20 seconds you would be producing an infrasound something like that produced by a big earthquake 1,500 miles away.

In doing this you would be changing the air pressure around the speaker by about one part in a million and you would be taking a long time to do it.

Instruments that measure these minute and very slow changes in atmospheric pressure are the means by which the researchers made their discoveries. The instruments are called microbarographs.

With these instruments the researchers learned that the air is full of infrasound.

The big earthquake in the Yellowstone region of Montana on Aug. 18, 1959, was registered on

Auditor Denies Saying City Funds Ample

City funds will be sufficient to meet payrolls but not ample enough to take care of all city obligations, Mrs. Helen Coyne, Salem city auditor, said today.

She denied that she told City Safety Director R. J. McConnor and Service Director James Feiler that funds were ample for all needs. The auditor then issued the following statement:

"In a report to the finance committee as of Sept. 1, I stated the City would have an estimated balance of $3,372.83 to operate the last four months of the year after payrolls.

"In the report our estimated receipts for the four months beginning Sept. 1 would be 175,133.06. This is a comparison of the receipts in the same period of 1959.

"Our outstanding bills at that time was $18,359.67. Estimated payroll for the balance of the year, $68,000. This estimate is with our present personnel which is a fireman and engineer assistant, not in service at the present time.

"The above estimate, providing that we receive our anticipated receipts, would leave approximately $3,300 balance to operate the City's General Fund for the balance of the year.

"The estimated expense for the last four months which includes street lighting, current fuel for City building, also maintenance and supplies for Police and Fire Departments, City Building and health departments. The above expenditures are estimated at $10,000 to $12,000, leaving a deficit of approximately $9,000.

"This leaves the city in a position whereby no funds would be available for the first three months of operation in the coming year, as receipts from taxes and other revenues are not available until March 15 or April. The estimated expense for the three months is approximately $50,000 including payrolls.

"The above report compiled by the auditor was presented to Council and the Administration at the regular Council meeting held Sept. 20 by the finance committee."

Cuba Scorns U.S. Embargo

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's economic czar said Thursday night the U.S. embargo on most exports to Cuba will not seriously harm the island nation partly because black marketeers in the United States will defy it.

But National Bank President Ernesto Guevara conceded that Cuba faces difficulties. He said the nation "must have confidence in the solidarity of the nations that have offered to stand by us, extending economic aid and even volunteers and, figuratively speaking, rockets"—an obvious reference to Soviet Russia and the Communist bloc.

Guevara spoke on a two-hour TV program before leaving today with eight other officials on a trade-building trip to the Soviet Union, Red China, Czechoslovakia, North Korea and East Germany.

Black marketeers in the United States have worked against Washington's trade bans in the past, and they will evade this one, Guevara declared.

Guevara said that "there is a serious threat" of what he called U.S.-financed invasion in the near future from Guatemala.

"I believe they'll come," he said, "but I also believe they will never get out."

The U.S. embargo on all shipments to Cuba except medical supplies and food forces Cuba to look for purchases in new markets where American influence is not felt, Guevara said. He warned that the new customers for Cuban

$4,500 In Eggs Destroyed at Poultry Plant

Vandals Smash 300 Crates Over Walls, Floor and Ceiling

Damages totaling about $4,500 were caused last night when vandals smashed about 300 crates of eggs at the Northeast Ohio Poultry Assn. plant northwest of Columbiana, Columbiana County Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports.

The sheriff said the vandalism was discovered at 1 a.m. today by a truck driver who arrived at the plant to pick up a truck load of eggs.

Cartons of eggs were smashed on the floor, the walls and ceiling of the 30-by-80 foot storage building.

C. Tom Newsom, manager of the association, said over 300 crates of the 800 to 900 stored in the building were broken.

He said each crate was valued at $15.

The intruders entered the building through an unlocked door.

Newsom declared he didn't know of anyone who had ill feelings against the organization.

Sheriff VanFossan said he didn't think the damages were caused by Halloween pranksters.

Kennedy Staff Rejoices Over GOP Assist

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's staff, preparing for his debate tonight with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, rejoice in what they seized upon as a windfall assist from a Republican senator.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York conceded Thursday that "no matter what anyone says," U.S. prestige in the world has declined.

It would be silly to contend otherwise, the senator said in a campaign discussion with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Javits is considered a member of the Republican party liberal wing.

The reaction of Kennedy's staff left no doubt that the Democratic candidate will use Javits' statement to the full in his television and radio meeting tonight with Nixon.

"This is exactly what Sen. Kennedy has been saying all along is the central issue of the campaign," one Kennedy adviser said.

Nixon has said repeatedly that "Communist prestige in the world is at an all-time low and American prestige is at an all-time high."

Kennedy has taken the opposite tack—that U.S. influence has dangerously declined as the Soviet Union has narrowed the gap in military, economic and scientific achievements and threatened to push ahead.

Javits said the prestige of the United States has suffered as a result of U2 plane flights over the Soviet Union, the anti-American student riots in Japan, and developments in the Congo. The senator said, however, that he would stake the world prestige of President Eisenhower against that of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Debaters Agree On Hour Limit

Kennedy to Demand Another Meeting

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy meet tonight in their fourth television and radio debate. The program will be the same length as others — one hour.

The debate goes on the air at 9 p.m. Eastern Standard Time from the American Broadcasting Co.'s TV center on West 66th street. It also will be broadcast and televised by NBC and CBS, and broadcast by the Mutual Radio network.

Representatives of both presidential candidates finally agreed Thursday to limit tonight's debate to one hour. There had been talk of making the program two hours, with the final 60 minutes devoted to answering questions from viewers by telephone.

The issue of an extended program grew out of a proposal by Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, to hold a fifth debate as close as possible to the Nov. 8 election.

Nixon, the Republican candidate, turned Kennedy's proposal down and suggested instead that the fourth debate be extended to two hours.

However, Thursday night Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said "the door is slightly open" to a fifth debate. But other Nixon aides have said it would be difficult to revise campaign tour plans for the closing weeks and work in another debate.

Kennedy's camp said Thursday it would file another formal demand for a fifth TV meeting.

It will be Nixon's first telecast from the New York ABC studio. Kennedy appeared there last

Plainclothes Ohio Patrolmen Trap Suspect

Truckloads of Fuel Taken In Liverpool; Probe Continuing

A Chester, W. Va., man is being held in East Liverpool City jail today on a grand larceny charge stemming from a large scale gasoline theft operation, involving resale of perhaps over 500,000 gallons to area dealers in the past few years.

A special state highway patrol plain clothes team, along with city police, tracked the theft case this week, confiscating two camouflaged trucks used to haul the stolen fuel, and is continuing further investigation of the theft.

Apprehended Wednesday

Being held on a $1,500 bond at the city jail, is James Ronald Glover of 104 Church St., Chester, who was apprehended Wednesday in one of the trucks which was loaded with gasoline in tanks hidden beneath a tarpaulin.

Sgt. R. A. Jakmas of the Warren headquarters of the patrol said the operation was the largest he had ever investigated, and George D. Carroll of Baltimore, Md., district manager of the American Oil Co., from whose River Road Terminal the fuel was stolen, said he had never seen anything like it in his 30 years in the oil business.

Long-Time Operation
Sgt. Jakmas, plain-clothes officer, who directed the crackdown, said the theft and re-sales were a daily operation extending over "maybe several years."

Officials of the oil company are now auditing their books to determine the full extent of the losses and when they began. State tax officials are also readying a study of the case and federal tax authorities are expected to enter.

The patrol investigation was originally authorized to probe the evasion of state gasoline taxes in the area. The larceny charge filed in municipal court alleges Glover stole 500 gallons of fuel valued at about $125 from the Oil Terminal Wednesday.

To Receive Hearing
He is due to receive a preliminary hearing early next week. The patrol had Glover under surveillance for some time and he was finally arrested driving the loaded truck in East Liverpool Wednesday. After his arrest, the patrol obtained a search warrant and found a second truck also equipped with tanks at an East Second St. site. The trucks are registered in the name of Robert Deering of East Liverpool.

Jakmas said Police Chief Americo Radeschi and other East Liverpool officers cooperated in the arrest and continuing investigation.

Involves Prestige of American Dollar

Gold Rush Going on in London

NEW YORK (AP)—A new gold rush is on in London. It has almost as many trappings as the California gold rush and more international drama than the rush to the Klondike.

The latter-day gold rush is one of price rather than mining. But it involves the Swiss bankers, whose moves in international finance are always cloaked in secrecy and therefore doubly interesting to the public.

Prestige of American Dollar

The gold price hike also involves the prestige of the American dollar, and rumors—mostly wild ones—of what the U.S. Treasury might do about its fixed price for gold. It dips deep into the uncertainty about the trend of the U.S. economy and even the possible effect on the economy of the U.S. election.

The spurt in the price of gold in London is tied in closely with our policy of easier money and lower interest rates and with the subsequent flow of so-called hot money from Wall Street to Europe, especially to West Germany and Switzerland, where money commands higher returns.

The gold rush has sparked price rises here and abroad in the stocks of gold producers.

Gold-Rush Eye Catching

Reduced to bare figures the gold rush is eye-catching enough. Monday the price of gold on the London market jumped 1 1/2 cents an ounce. Tuesday it rose 8 cents. Wednesday it jumped 26 1/2 cents. Thursday morning it spurted nearly $3 an ounce.

By law the U.S. Treasury price is $35 an ounce.

Why the sudden notion that gold is worth more than that?

The British trace the immediate rush to buy gold to the action of Swiss bankers acting for their unnamed clients who want to turn their dollar holdings into gold. This is to evade Swiss decrees aimed at halting the influx of hot money.

The Swiss now charge a 1 per cent commission on deposits of foreign funds and the banks aren't allowed to pay interest on foreign funds deposited with them. The money that once sought investment in high yielding short-term U.S. securities started leaving this country when interest rates dropped. The Swiss are trying to discourage the excess flow.

Fear About U. S. Dollar

A longer term reason for the conversion of dollar holdings into gold is belief in some circles that the U.S. dollar isn't the super-strong currency it once was.

And another belief stubbornly held despite strong and highly convincing U.S. Treasury denials is that the deficit in this country's balance of payments and its loss of gold in the last three years may force a devaluation of the dollar. That is, the Treasury would raise the price it would pay for gold.

The payments deficit and gold loss grew out of three years of this country paying out more dollars for imports, foreign aid, travel, private investments abroad, foreign services and overseas military bases than it took in for its exports, services and profits on overseas investments.

Our exports are currently running nearly $4 billion higher than our imports, compared with this time a year ago when they were about equal. But the deficit, from other sources, though smaller, still exists. And the excess dollars that central banks of other nations get this way can be turned into gold at our treasury, under our law.

Our gold holdings are now around $18 1/2 billion. Most observers say little trouble would arise unless they fell below $18 billion.

The vice president attacked Kennedy's labor recommendations as "federalizing of collective bargaining." He said his Democratic opponent, if president, "would settle major labor disputes before the time comes to order the present last ditch 80-day cooling-off periods."

Nixon said one of Kennedy's proposals would grant a chief executive power to seize an industry, and he declared such authority should be exercised only by Congress and only in a crisis. He suggested first that a president be empowered to call a fact-finding board into service whenever a serious dispute develops, presumably before a strike actually occurs. This type of board could not make recommendations for settlement unless company and union consented. Its purpose would be to clarify the issues, he said, before a dispute assumed emergency proportions.

Further than that, he advocated arming conventional Taft-Hartley boards with the right to make settlement recommendations before it becomes necessary, in the fact-finders' judgement, to seek from the courts an 80-day strike ban.

Nixon Looking Forward to Tonight's Debate, Aide Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is "looking forward eagerly" to his fourth television and radio debate with Sen. John F. Kennedy, a Nixon aide said today.

Nixon was shuttled in his hotel suite preparing for tonight's encounter on international affairs.

He had no public appearances or campaign appointments on his schedule in advance of the meeting with Kennedy.

Thursday Nixon proposed Taft-Hartley law amendments designed to enable the government to help resolve major labor disputes before the time comes to order the present last ditch 80-day cooling-off periods.

The vice president attacked Kennedy's labor recommendations as "federalizing of collective bargaining." He said his Democratic opponent, if president, "would settle major labor disputes himself."

Economists Says U.S. Entering Mild, Brief Recession

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Industry economists today advised the government's Business Advisory Council that the country is entering a mild and probably brief business recession.

The report predicted the decline would cut into total production not more than about 2 per cent and would end by mid-1961. The study was made especially for the BAC's fall meeting this weekend with Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller and other high government officials.

Whether the council itself—made up of the heads of scores of the country's biggest corporations—would agree with the findings of its own panel of professional economists was a question to be settled later today.

The council was scheduled to canvass the business outlook at the opening session of its fall meeting here. Newsmen were barred as usual from the BAC meetings.

Some government economists are known to agree with the private experts. Others hold that a further period of "high plateau" can be expected, with no significant gains or losses from the present near-record level of prosperity. However, it was known that Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson was prepared to tell the council that the country already has passed through its "adjustment" and that business can be expected to pick up.

Aides of Anderson said he has not altered the views he voiced to the International Monetary fund last month—that a summer sag resulted from curtailment of business outlays for inventories; that inventories now have been cut to workable levels; that resumed buying can now be expected; and that both the near-term and long-term outlooks are good.

But recession talk was stimulated by Thursday's announcement in Washington that the rate of total national output skidded by $2 billion in the third quarter from the record $505-billion rate of the spring quarter.

This followed a series of official reports, issued over the past fortnight, which disclosed that industrial production, retail sales, housing activity, wage and salary income, and other key indicators declined in September.

The 1960 Judicial Ballot

There are three choices to be made by Ohio voters for the Ohio Supreme Court on Nov. 8. In two races, men now sitting on the state's highest court are asking for re-election. They are James F. Bell and Kingsley A. Taft. Judge Bell's opponent is Earl R. Hoover, a Cuyahoga County Common Pleas judge. Both have served ably in their respective assignments, but Judge Bell deserves the edge because he is completing his first six-year term on the Supreme Court and has profited by the experience.

JUDGE TAFT has served two distinguished six-year terms and has our unqualified endorsement. When he ran for his second term six years ago, he was the only judge in the 157-year history of the Ohio Supreme Court who was unopposed in either party. His opponent this year is Joseph H. Ellison.

The third place on the Supreme Court to be filled this year is sought by C. William O'Neill, former governor of Ohio. His opponent is John W. Peck. Mr. Peck was appointed to the Ohio Supreme Court by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to serve the last four years of the unexpired term of the late James Garfield Stewart.

Officially, Ohio jurists run for office on a nonpartisan ballot. Actually, most candidates for judicial office are active in politics.

Mr. O'Neill certainly has a better claim to the place on the Supreme Court originally won by Judge Stewart, a Republican, than the Democratic appointee of a Democratic governor. But that is not the compelling reason for electing former Gov. O'Neill.

He is suited for the job. He made his mark in Ohio government as attorney general. He qualified himself for attention as one of the state's most promising public officials by the thoroughness of his work in the attorney general's office. By training and by temperament, he would make a good judge.

THE COMMON experience throughout Ohio is for voters to neglect judicial ballots because they do not feel they can make decisions in races they do not understand. In a sense, it is fortunate it happens this way. It immunizes judicial candidates against blind partisan voting.

But it imposes extra responsibility on voters who inform themselves about judicial candidates. They must make a special effort to understand which candidates deserve special attention.

Cuba May Not Wait For Nov. 8

We have no idea what the Kennedy campaigners have in mind to say next about Cuba. But if they stay in the groove, they will go at Cuba hammer and tongs until they have milked it for all the headlines they can get out of it, the way they worked over Quemoy and Matsu.

Cuba was coming up next. In all probability, the Kennedys also have the South American republics on their list of things to badger the Eisenhower administration about before Nov. 8.

But Cuba suddenly is in a special category. The U. S. government has taken the drastic step of imposing economic sanctions on Cuba. No exports of any nature that might be useful if Cuba launched a military adventure will be permitted without a license, and no licenses are likely.

Cuba may not wait for Nov. 8 to make the fateful move that would bring it into a military conflict with the United States—an attack on the U.S. naval station at Guantanamo. Cuban extremists led by Fidel Castro and his Communist accomplices have exhausted the possibilities of seizing the private property of U.S. citizens and companies.

Their ultimate step would be to seize the public property of the United States.

They would do this to precipitate war. Their purpose would be to make the United States test the Organization of American States as a means of protecting its stake in a military installation, as devised a scheme as any dictatorial regime ever cooked up to test the ingenuity, wisdom and patience of another government. From Castro's point of view, it would be the means of driving a wedge between the United States and its Latin American allies.

John Kennedy should lay off any more shooting from the hip on the subject of Cuba. Richard Nixon should lay off, too. Both men should defer from now on to the only American who can make policy in this delicate problem of how to handle a revolution that was turned into a counter-revolution by the perfidy of the Communist Conspiracy.

Cuba is Dwight Eisenhower's responsibility now. It's time again for all office-seekers to shut their mouths at the water's edge, where politics is supposed to stop.

Must These Things Always Happen?

One of our readers has sent us a clipping from the Jackson Herald, published in Ripley, W. Va. Kennedy campaign headquarters probably have a few thousand of these clippings by this time.

The story and picture, published Oct. 7, concern a decrepit house being used in Kennedy campaign literature to show the desperate poverty in which West Virginians have been forced to live by Republican "misrule and heartlessness."

The catch is that the house is within a 15-minute drive from Ripley, so the Jackson Herald took a picture and dug up the facts. The house had been damaged by the rebuilding of U.S. Route 33. The owner settled for $7,000, then abandoned the house.

From the hill back of it, reports the Jackson Herald, "one can see smoke belching from the stacks of the Vanadium Steel Co. plant, the Kaiser Aluminum Co. plant, the Philip Sporn power plant and, a little farther away, the Kyger Creek power plant. Also one can see fine orchards, some of the best farm lands in the Ohio Valley, truck farms, areas where home development has been above the average, where banks have tripled in resources during the past few years and everything is moving forward at a pace never before known in the history of the area."

But of course the big thing is not to let facts interfere with the main business at hand in the Kennedy campaign, which is to prove that this country is going to hell in a basket under those awful Republicans and nothing can save it but multi-billion-dollar horse-dog drenches of federal spending with federal jobholders skimming their customary 10 per cent off the top.

By H. I. Phillips

was grateful for I might have been rude," she makes many Americans cry out. "Look, roll or no roll, couldn't you have mentioned on your own Khrushchev's fierce attacks at the United Nations and asked, 'Didn't you go a little far? What was behind your boast of rockets turned out like sausages for use against my country and the world? Have a sugar bun, and tell me!'"

The roll which Khrushchev didn't get in 1959 is being discussed everywhere. Suppose it had been a coffee cake! He might have taken off both shoes at the United Nations.)

UNDER NEW LAW, Washington has named a man as chief of a bureau to set up and keep a list of drunken drivers, so any city or state can keep tabs on them.

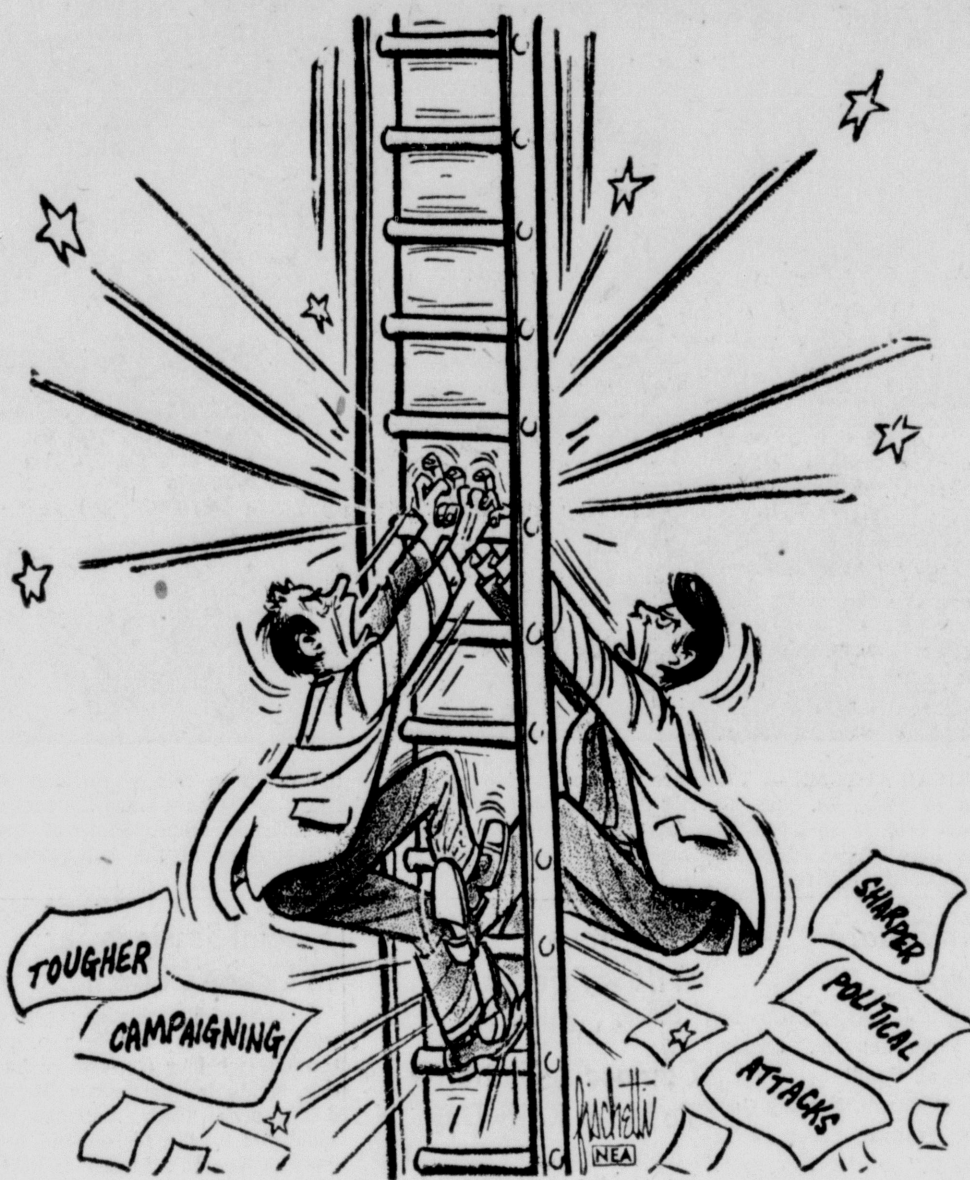

The idea is to keep drivers, whose licenses have been taken away for being piddled, from circulating freely in areas where their record is not known.

It should be a big help in cutting tragedies but a list of perfectly sober drivers, who are as great a menace on roads as the jags, would be useful.

Anybody needs but to stand on any road any time any day or night to see scores of sober operators driving without decent respect for life and limb. Drunks are few, and nothing can be said in their defense, but the cold sober guys whose motto is "Never give anybody, especially women and children a brake," out-number them 10,000 to 1. Let's have a rogues' gallery of non-drunks who are potential killers!

The News invites letters from its readers on all important current topics, but the letters should be brief, not to exceed 200 words and they must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication. Unsigned letters can not be published.

Pretense of Religious Freedom

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The ridiculous truth about religious freedom in the United States is that the pulpit holds a rigid monopoly on religion which is protected by public opinion and the press.

Individuals who dare to examine the popular religions and to state their reasons for skepticism are hounded and ruined for "hate-mongering". In most cases they really are guilty of hate-mongering because it seems impossible to compare A's religion with B's without arousing hatred. However, the haters, not the mongers, are at fault here.

In no other "educated" country, except Soviet Russia, is religion so fearfully avoided. It is no credit to the intelligence and composure of the North Americans that we impose on ourselves a taboo which in Russia comes from the Kremlin; that we lack the sense to admit that we are capable of free controversy in these spiritual and intellectual matters. We permit no candor in any forum except in the pulpit.

I PITIED the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale in the recent spectacle of his embroilment in some vague expression about Kennedy's religious obligations. I pitied him because he ran away uttering plaintive squeals of repudiation.

At my last glimpse this holy man was thrusting home the bars on the oaken doors of his church for sanctuary from lynchings who persecute all who try to practice religious freedom. Jack Kennedy may pose arm-in-arm with Walter Reuther and Frank Sinatra but he must not pay the slightest public respect to Pope John.

All journalists learn early that whatever their private convictions and speculations may be, they will incur the ill-will of mighty forces if they express the slightest reasonable doubt of the most difficult doctrine of any faith.

In all ages, real religious freedom has been attended by bloodshed, ostracism and other ferocity. That undoubtedly would be our own fate, too. But, that being so, why don't we confess to ourselves and God Almighty that our pretense of religious freedom is a sham to spare us bloody noses and business reprisals?

WE ARE SO FEARFUL of open discussion that the word "bigot" has derived from our fault an evil meaning which is not inherent. The word means "one obstinately or intolerantly devoted to his own church, party, belief or opinion."

Yet if we examine our general conduct as a people, that definition applies to us.

How better can the total spiritual faith of a true-believing member of a religious sect be described than by the term "bigotry"?

He must be "obstinate" if he hopes for his eternal reward; he must not be wayward and weak or easily dissuaded whether by logic or ridicule. Martyrs died at the stake, on the gallows and in the arena sustained by their "obstinacy."

And he is "intolerant" of the other man's religion for the obvious reason that the other fellow's faith, being different from his own, is invalid for him.

Such freedom is light-years away from our present condition.

Demagogic Dramatics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Kennedy Camp Has It All Over Nixon Planners

When it comes to dramatics and achieving theatrical effects, the Kennedy management is putting it all over the Nixon management.

One stunt out - Checkers' the famous Nixon appearance in the 1952 campaign, a nd another piece of stage in g outdoors any "Madison Avenue Technique" of which the Republicans have frequently been accused. These two television affairs have together just cost the Kennedy management at least $250,000. Both were televised over networks of between 150 and 180 stations.

The first of these two shows occurred on Sunday night, when the smart boys in the Kennedy camp managed to persuade the Columbia Broadcasting System to shorten its regular television program "What's My Line?" and make the last five minutes available for a Kennedy broadcast, paid for by the "Citizens for Kennedy" organization, thus insuring the continued interest of an audience that had already been gathered for a popular quiz feature.

In the second instance, the same technique was used, and the Garry Moore show on Tuesday night, which also enjoys a high rating, was clipped by five minutes to permit the Kennedy management to put on its show.

BOTH SHOWS were then presented the following mornings, as paid political telecasts, in the midst of the Dave Garroway program on the National Broadcasting Company network, where another big audience was assured.

Sen. Kennedy played the role of the leading man in the two skits, and undoubtedly the script was prepared in advance at least for those selected to appear in the act with him.

In the Sunday night show, there were three mothers who had lost their sons in World War II, and Sen. Kennedy mentioned in passing that he had lost a brother in the same war.

The discussion centered on the horrors of war, and the plain implication was that Sen. Kennedy would spare the nation a repetition of such a tragedy.

The Democratic nominee sat at a small table, having tea with the three elderly ladies in an informal, homey atmosphere.

The women participants didn't have much to say except to reveal at the outset that they had lost their sons in the war. It was a dramatic setting, and the Kennedy management certainly took advantage of the emotional undertones in order to help the Democratic nominee get votes.

In the Tuesday night show, the technique was very much the same but the participants were different.

An older man and his wife sat at a table in what appeared to be their home and discussed with

Sen. Kennedy the cost to the husband of something around $600 for medical treatment for a broken hip.

SEN. KENNEDY pointed out that this was a pretty heavy bill to pay and that, under his administration, Social Security would take care of such things through a tax which would cost only 3 cents a day, or about $11 a year, in Social Security payments.

The Congress had this question up at the last session, and many Democrats as well as Republicans voted against it on the theory that medical care can be provided best by direct federal appropriation each year to the states, and that the cost of such care for those who are unable to pay would be negligible compared to the large cost of the Social Security tax which, it was argued, everybody would pay but from which only relatively few would benefit.

Other arguments made against the proposal are that many people are well able to afford medical care because they have themselves saved money or have children who are able to take care of their parents and that the Social Security plan would mean a socialization of medical care and ultimately lead to socialized medicine — at least, this was one of the arguments made against it by the medical profession, which dislikes seeing the government engage directly in medical care except for those who are in destitute circumstances.

IRRESPECTIVE of the merits of the issues themselves as discussed by Sen. Kennedy, the technique used by him certainly was novel.

This may be the forerunner of other theatrical presentations by future presidential nominees and it could be that the elections hereafter will turn on who is the best actor and who can play the best role on the television screen with scripts that touch the sympathies and emotions of the people.

All this, of course, is what the dictionary defines as "demagoguery" but that word has not been applied to Sen. Kennedy. It usually has been directed against Mr. Nixon, who, it will be recalled, appeared on television in connection with a controversy that arose in the autumn of 1952 over a political fund.

At that time when Mr. Nixon rose to his own defense in a television speech, he mentioned the one campaign gift he had received — the dog "Checkers" sent to his daughters.

Thirades against him for allegedly using an emotional appeal have been coming from the "left wing" ever since.

The broadcasting companies recently made quite a fuss over the "equal time" provisions of the law and succeeded in having them repealed in part.

There is still a right of reply but it means paying out the same amount of money to buy similar time on the air and this, of course, would be at other times, when the original audience is gone and cannot be gathered to hear the rebuttal.

Scurrilous Leaflets

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Four facts about Walter Reuther, president of the CIO and the UAW, have never before been doubted.

One is that he is the second most powerful figure in the American labor movement.

Another is that he is a devoted believer in government control of American industry.

Another is that he has for 25 years been moving to bring the Democratic party under the control of the politically minded union leaders.

Another was that he had the smartest, most acute brain among all the political labor leaders.

Now there is reason to have grave doubts about the last of these hitherto conceded facts.

THE NATIONWIDE publicity which has revealed Reuther's obtuseness comes because it has been brought out by a person no less than the President of the United States. By now the whole story is known over the nation and it needs little elaboration here.

But its importance moves me to mention once more in these articles the issue of religion.

More than a month ago, I wrote that I should not bring it up again, saying that the subject should be avoided by both candidates and by all responsible political writers.

I believed then that only a few members of any religion would vote their prejudices rather than their concept of the worth of the two candidates.

But Reuther is not a single, irresponsible peddler of fanaticism or even the head of a small group of fanatics. He is a public figure of great importance.

His voice and his influence are known everywhere. He serves on governmentally appointed committees and commissions. He lectures in colleges and universities. He is listened to abroad.

Why? Because he speaks for more than a million free American wage-earners—members of all religions and respected members of their communities.

Granted that foolish and irresponsible people have attacked Kennedy because of his religion. That has been repudiated by Mr. Nixon. But when a pamphlet which injects religion into the campaign is inserted in the publication of Water Reuther's UAW and distributed to members who are of all faiths, the issue or responsibility is pertinent.

THIS SCURRILOUS leaflet was not limited to Detroit. More than a million copies were distributed to UAW members; additional numbers were printed and circulated by the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education.

Reuther's publication says in effect that those who vote against Kennedy are bigots and enemies of liberty. I am one of those Americans, and I deeply resent this. Thousands of others—members of all religions—will resent it also.

Reuther has compounded his blunder by his statement that the smear has been "misrepresented." This is a weak and disingenuous statement.

This publication of the UAW cannot be misinterpreted. It is a summons to a profoundly deep and cruel division among our people.

It is also an irreparable injury to the labor movement which Reuther has exploited for political purposes.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'm a businessman who has been around plenty (used to be in the merchant marine).

For the life of me I don't know why so many guys who write to you with their troubles mention the dimensions of their babes. Maybe that's why they have trouble—they go looking for a wife with a tape measure instead of using common sense.

One jerk who wrote to you said he hated to lose the chick (who lifted his wallet, yet) and added mournfully, "she's 38-24-34." He wanted to know if she could be "rehabilitated."

It would serve the clown right if after he married her she turned out to be 26-24-36. Lingerie shops have the most amazing gadgets these days.

Not only should these morons consider the possibility of an optical illusion but the shape of things has been known to change with the passing of time and the arrival of three or four kids.

Thanks for letting me have my say, Ann. I couldn't resist the chance to play. — ANDY LANDERS.

Dear Andy: Thanks for those words of wisdom. Coming from a male they should have more impact. If more men listened to, instead of looked at, what they were marrying, my mail would be much lighter.

Conversation Gambit

Dear Ann: I'm a widow who is going with a widower. We are both in our 50s, sensible, educated, and we get along well.

Lawrence has many friends about whom he speaks often. I have not met them. He has suggested we just drop in on them. I say it's impolite to "drop in" on people. Lawrence says I'm too formal and his friends have expressed a desire to meet me and suggested he bring me over anytime.

It is my contention that "drop in anytime" is no invitation. We've discussed this a good bit and he suggested I write to you for the final word. I was delighted, because I've been reading your column long enough to know what you'll say. So—please say it. — CONFIDENT.

Dear Confident: Tell Lawrence that when his friends get so eager to meet you that they tell him exactly when to bring you over (like a specific evening) you'll be happy to go. Not until.

A suggestion that you "drop in sometime" is not an invitation. It's a meaningless conversational gambit.

Concern for Child

Dear Ann: A child in our neighborhood is mentally ill. When the mother goes shopping she leaves the girl to roam the streets. There are other children in the family but they seem to be busy with their own playmates.

This child is in her early teens now and I'm afraid some unscrupuous scoundrel may take advantage of her. She's not bad-looking but it's obvious that she has the mentality of a 7-year-old.

Last year I carefully broached the subject to her mother. She lit into me, saying she didn't need any suggestions on how to care for her children. Will you please tell me what I can do to help this girl without getting into trouble with the family? — A FRIEND.

Dear Friend: Notify the local juvenile authorities. I'm confident they'll come through with the help the girl and her mother need.

Dear Ann Landers: My 16-year-old daughter and her girl friend who is the same aged locked themselves in the bathroom and with the help of a bottle of peroxide and a few packages of white henna they have ruined their looks.

Elsie (our daughter) used to be a brunette. Now she's almost platinum. Her girl friend had sandy colored hair and she's also a mess. When my husband saw them he was terribly upset.

The girl friend's mother phoned me and I never heard such language on a telephone. She asked why I LET them do it. I told her they did it on their own and that I couldn't watch 16-year-olds as if they were infants.

What can we do? My husband says we should make Elsie cut all her hair off. I think this is too harsh. It'll take months to grow back and she'll look hideous in the meantime. Please advise. We are waiting. — S.O.S.

Dear S.O.S.: The girls can have their hair dyed back to the natural color in one afternoon, although I admit it gives those who look a better break than they deserve. The price of the job should be taken out of their allowances — every last cent of it.

Clinker In Thinker

Dear Ann: I love my husband. He's a fine man and a wonderful father but for some inexplicable reason he is so rude to my mother that I am sick with shame.

Mother is an aging widow, quiet, gentle, ladylike, never meddles and never comes over uninvited. She makes no demands on anyone, and she lets Edward do all the talking.

Edward is also very obnoxious to me when mother is present. He criticizes my cooking and makes snide remarks.

I've talked to him about his changed personality in mother's presence. He admits I'm right, says he doesn't know what demon overtakes him but it's something he can't control.

What am I going to do? I love my mother and I'm not going to stand for his abusing her. Please help me. — TORN.

Dear Torn: Edward has a clinker in his thinker. He identifies your mother with someone he hates — maybe his own mother. At any rate, her presence sets him off.

Spend as much time with your mother during the day as possible—when Edward is not around.

Explain to her as best you can that he has an irrational quirk and she is not to blame for his uncivilized behavior. When Edward MUST be in her presence and acts up, invite your mother to join you — in another room.

Live Alone and Like It

Dear Ann: My husband and I met in a small dance hall which is very respectable. We were married less than four months when he left last week for the service.

I am terribly lonesome and wonder if it would be all right if I went to that little dance hall to relive the early days of our romance — just for sentimental reasons. Please hurry your advice. I'm getting lonesome fast. — TONI.

Dear Toni: And what exactly would you be doing in that little old dance hall? You don't plan on dancing alone, do you?

A married woman whose husband is in the service ought to stay out of dance halls — for sentimental reasons.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Arden Hoover

Alice McCrae, Wesley Hoover Wed In Presbyterian Church

Miss Alice Ann McCrae and Wesley Arden Hoover pledged their marriage vows Tuesday evening before the altar of the First United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. John Hurrell, assistant pastor, officiated at the single ring ceremony, which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCrae of 793 W. Pershing St. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wesley Hoover of Guys Mill, Pa.

Palms, candleabra and vases of white chrysanthemums graced the altar.

Marshall P. Bailey was organist for the service.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The bodice was styled with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented with pleated nylon ruffles.

A queen's crown of pearls held her illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, centered with an orchid.

Miss Nancy McCrae, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She appeared in a rose nylon chiffon gown with matching net hat. Pink roses and blue mums formed her colonial bouquet.

Darl Hoover served his brother as best man. The ushers were Glenn Shoemaker, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Robert Ploski.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCrae chose a blue lace dress, while Mrs. Hoover wore a blue crepe dress. Each wore black accessories and a pink rose corsage.

The reception followed in Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth, a gift to her grandparents on their wedding day 59 years ago. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and a bridegroom figurine.

The hostesses were Mrs. Edward Grosbeck, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Charles Semple, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Sally McKenzie and Eve Harvey, cousin of the bride. Helen Knapp registered the guests from Guys Mills and Meadville, Pa., Newton Falls, Niles, Warren, Girard, Lordstown, Champion, Austintown and Salem.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Do You Use or Misuse Column's Services?

If you have a hypochondriac in your family, perhaps you'll sympathize with a gentle critic (of Pensacola, Fla.), who expresses the opinion that medical columns, such as mine, are harmful to emotionally unstable patients, their families and even their doctors.

"When you write your comments concerning various diseases, poisons, antidotes etc.," he writes, "I'm sure you do not realize that many readers are not mentally stable enough to digest your comments without feeling they have the same disease you describe."

"As they read, they just know they have the same symptoms and must have the same dread disease although their family doctor just hasn't found it."

"I know there is not a healthy attitude but let's face it, there are hundreds of people of this type in our country and certainly your column does them, their families and even their doctors no good."

"My experience is from a personal standpoint," the letter goes on to say "I have a member of my family who has never been well, has many and various ailments all the time and, believe me, grabs the paper each day and eagerly reads your column and just knows her symptoms are the same as you describe and that she must have the same dread disease described by you."

"Neurotics seek medical aid regularly and give their doctor and families enough concern with out aid from your column. Don't you agree?"

DEAR FRIEND, I couldn't agree more. Nor could you possibly find anyone more sympathetic to your suffering. But I must take exception to the obvious inference that medical columns, such as mine, are not in the public interest and hence should be done away with.

As a thoughtful and experienced man, you must realize that every public service is capable of misuse in the hands of unstable, ignorant or malicious persons.

I don't think you'd favor abolition of fire boxes because of a prankster or a maniac occasionally turns in a false alarm.

I don't think you'd favor a ban on sweet shops because an occasional diabetic goes on a candy binge and ends up in a state of acidosis.

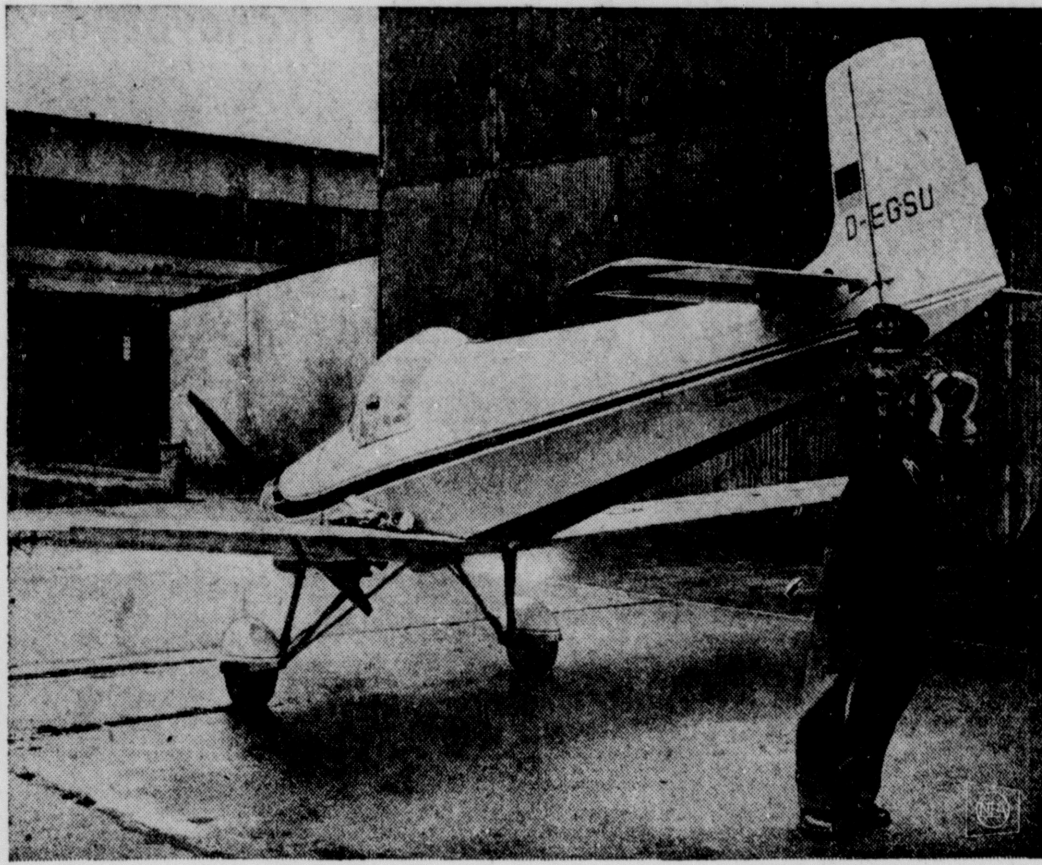

Nor do I think you'd favor re-enactment of the constitutional amendment that prohibited the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages just because too many of your neighbors and mine drink more than is good for them.

Certainly my columns and those of my fellow columnists do harm to those who misuse or abuse the information that's contained in them.

But, for each reader who's harmed, I believe there are many who profit by what they read.

And, in any democratic society, the best that any public servant can hope to achieve is that which brings the greatest good to the greatest number.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

No matter who wins on Election Day, the mob will lose exactly one week later. Sen. McClellan will be back in business. The returns on his subpenas will start rolling in on the morning of Nov. 15 in the Senate Office Building.

His new committee—a Senate Select Committee—such as these: "... (the mob) brought 40 men in to the labor movement in positions of trust and responsibility."

"Man, who among them, had been arrested a remarkable total of 178 times and convicted on 77 of those occasions for crimes ranging from theft, violation of the Harrison Narcotics Act, extortion, conspiracy, bookmaking, use of stench bombs, felonious assault, robbery, possession of an unregistered still, burglary, violation of the gun laws, being an accessory to murder, forgery, possession of stolen mail and disorderly conduct."

It will show that the mob never took a holiday. What the McClellan staff did was to follow up observations of the old McClellan Select Committee—such as these: "... (the mob) brought 40 men in to the labor movement in positions of trust and responsibility."

"Man, who among them, had been arrested a remarkable total of 178 times and convicted on 77 of those occasions for crimes ranging from theft, violation of the Harrison Narcotics Act, extortion, conspiracy, bookmaking, use of stench bombs, felonious assault, robbery, possession of an unregistered still, burglary, violation of the gun laws, being an accessory to murder, forgery, possession of stolen mail and disorderly conduct."

THIS IS MERELY a biographical note on the proletarian pretenders reflecting their qualifications for leadership in these circles. After they moved into a handful of Teamsters locals, 25 of the 40 were convicted or indicted for extortion, perjury, bribery and forgery.

Some of these characters will get a chance to make their television debuts without getting a chance to declare, with injured feelings, that they were persecuted for political reasons.

The hearing will run most of the week. It will be prelude to other testimony involving at least three other cities.

This carries the public probing mighty close to early December when provisional president James Hoffa wanted to run a national Teamsters convention—in Miami Beach, of course.

Hoffa had hoped to conduct a swift four-day convention, the most important order of business being his re-election as permanent president.

FOR SOME utterly whimsical reason, no doubt, Hoffa has moved up his arrangements. He now has an option on a big Bal Harbour hotel convention hall set for the first two weeks in January.

Should he have to postpone his convalesce past Jan. 15, the sacrifice will be great. The Teamsters will hit the Florida winter season rush and be forced to give up their option.

This would move them to Chicago in cold weather and you know how tough that is on hard-working delegates.

By that time, there will have been several new McClellan committee hearings in the old rip-roaring tradition.

These will create an atmosphere in which the new secretary of labor, be he Republican or Democrat, will have little alternative but to make his first order of business intervention into the teamsters election of convention delegates. H would act under something called Section 601. Few know of it outside the Labor Department.

YOU'LL HEAR MUCH of this bit of the Landrum-Griffin Act. It says, in effect, the secretary of labor has the right to anticipate violation.

Whenever he believes it necessary to learn whether any person has violated, or is about to violate, any provision of the act, he can subpoena books and witnesses.

He can grant immunity to witnesses. This means that they won't be able to take the "Fifth" on the

Special Hormones Reduce Cholesterol, Physicians Report

ST. LOUIS Mo. (AP)— Special twisted hormones are safely reducing cholesterol in the blood of heart patients, two physicians reported today.

Cholesterol is a fatty material which is thought to play a part in choking and blocking arteries to the heart and in the brain. This clogging produces heart attacks and strokes.

The twisted hormones are synthetic or man-made variations of the thyroid hormone, thyroxine. They are twisted in the sense that their chemical molecules are backward or mirror-image versions of the natural hormone.

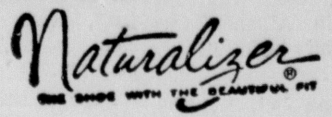

Natural thyroxine drastically reduces cholesterol. But it also speeds up bodily reactions, and can cause nervousness, irritability, and loss of weight.

The new synthetic hormones do the job without causing undesirable effects, Drs. Maurice M. Best and Charles H. Duncan of Louisville, Ky., told opening sessions of the American Heart Association's annual scientific meeting.

Railroads Authorized To Hike Freight Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized the nation's railroads to hike their basic freight rates effective next Monday, Oct. 24.

However, the commission temporarily suspended proposals for various increases in special rail service charge pending further investigation.

The railroads gave public notice of the proposed increases in late September, on a basis designed to yield $147 million additional revenue annually.

In approving the major part of these proposals, the commission made no immediate estimate of what yield will be involved to help the industry meet increased operating costs estimated to amount to $600 million since the last general rate increase in 1958.

Speculative Gold Bubble About to Burst

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold opened $4.20 an ounce lower this morning amid predictions the week's big speculative bubble is about to burst.

Dealers on the London bullion market fixed the day's opening price at $36.40 a fine ounce. This compared with the top price of $40.60 reached during feverish dealings Thursday.

The official U.S. Treasury price is $35 an ounce.

The big drop on the London exchange presumably resulted from an official U.S. Treasury statement that Washington has no intention of increasing this price. To do so would, in effect, devalue the dollar.

The Treasury statement came too late to cool off the hectic gold market Thursday afternoon.

The Treasury statement also had its effect this morning on the London Stock Exchange, where booming gold mine shares were sharply marked down by brokers. This in turn unsettled other sections of the market, and minus signs were scattered freely through the list during the forepart of the trading session.

This upward heave of the Washington terrain caused the ground to press upward against the air in the Washington vicinity. The pressure change was recorded by the microbarographs as something less than one part in a million.

From this the researchers calculated that the rise and fall of the Washington terrain had been about one seventy-fifth of an inch in 11 seconds.

that the United States is stumbling into the status of a second-class power and that our prestige has slumped to an all-time low, we are simply listening to debasement of the truth."

Kennedy has contended that United States prestige abroad deteriorated during the Eisenhower administration.

The Democratic candidate has declared he does not regard this country as a second rate nation. He has said America is strong but needs to be stronger in the decade ahead because of the Soviet Union's gains in military might and in its economic growth.

The President's speech was made public in advance of delivery. Even before he went before his dinner audience, the Kennedy camp was firing back.

Salem-Wellsville Tilt Tonight Is Top Grid Attraction

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
A showdown battle tonight at Salem between Ohio's 11th ranked Quakers and 22nd ranked Wellsville Tigers highlights high school football action in the area this weekend.

There are also four important Tri-County League, two Inter-County League and two Turnpike Conference games.

Here's This Week's Area Football Slate

Tonight's Games
Wellsville at Salem, 8 p.m.
Struthers at East Liverpool
Lowellville at McDonald
Columbiana at Sebring
Minerva at East Palestine
Poland at Leetonia
Lisbon at Louisville
Salineville at Wayne

Saturday's Games
Beaver Local at Fairfield-Waterford
Western Reserve at Greenford
North Lima at Springfield Local
Warren St. Mary's at Canfield
West Branch at Jackson-Milton
Carrollton at United, 2:30 p.m.

ference frays on tap tonight and Saturday, besides several other non-loop games.

Salem is rated a slight favorite in its game tonight with Wellsville, a team which has taken 16 straight lickings at the hands of the Quakers. The fact that the

Leetonia, East Palestine Host Tough Opponents

Quakers are rated so high may work to the advantage of the Tigers. Salem rarely goes into a game as an underdog and the psychological aspects involved may be taking effect. The Quakers looked dead in their 14-6 victory over Cleveland East last week. Salem has a 6-0 record and Wellsville is 5-0-1 for the season.

THE TOP TRI-COUNTY League game tonight will be at East Palestine where the defending champion Bulldogs will entertain the Minerva Lions. East Palestine is unbeaten in three Tri-County League games while Minerva has won two and lost one.

East Palestine must win to keep pace with Poland which is also unbeaten in league play. Minerva, one of the pre-season favorites in the Tri-County loop, won't be any pushover. A 12-0 upset at the hands of Columbiana is the only blemish on a slate which shows five victories.

If the Bulldogs can keep their fine fullback, Jim Wisser, healthy, they will be tough to stop. Wisser raced for three touchdowns against Austintown Pitch last week in his first really big night of the season.

Since being blanked 12-0 in their opener by Beaver, Pa., East Palestine has averaged almost 40 points for its last four contests. It also should be noted that the Bulldogs' three league victories have come over the bottom teams in the loop — Sebring, Leetonia and Lisbon.

LEETONIA WILL celebrate its Homecoming with a game against rugged Poland tonight. While the Bears have dropped their first five games, Poland has chalked up five straight wins.

Leetonia put up a good fight before losing to Columbiana last week, 27-8.

Coach Ike Farrah has filed a written protest on the game with W. J. McConnell, commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The protest resulted from a referee's interpretation of the rules.

Columbiana had the ball deep in Leetonia territory and on a fourth down, failed to make the necessary yardage for a first down. After the play was concluded, a 15-yard penalty was called against Leetonia. The official stepped off the 15 yards against Leetonia and gave Columbiana a first down. Coach Farrah believes the ball should have been turned over to Leetonia, first down and 25 yards to go for another first down.

Farrah said films of the game also show that the Clippers had two ineligible pass receivers down field on the same play. He said films also show that Columbiana had 12 men on the field in one extra point attempt.

THE LEETONIA MENTOR emphasized that he doesn't want to take anything away from the ability of the Clippers. "I told George Fisher (coach of the Clippers) after the game that the better team won. They have a fine ball club. The trouble with the officials wasn't their fault."

Another team which will probably soon attest to the fact that Coach Fisher has a rugged machine this season is the Sebring Trojans. The winless Trojans play host to the Clippers tonight.

The other Tri-County League game tonight has Lisbon playing at Louisville. Coach Bud Bucher's Blue Devils finally got a win under their belts last week, thanks largely to the running and pass catching of Ricky Bowling who tallied five touchdowns against Sebring. Lisbon is capable of upsetting the Leopards who have beaten Leetonia and Sebring but lost to Poland.

In the Turnpike Conference, high scoring West Branch (5-1) is expected to roll over Jackson-Milton (2-4) in a tilt Saturday at North Jackson.

The leaders in the Turnpike Conference, Canfield and Warren St. Mary's, will tangle Saturday at Canfield. Warren St. Mary's is the team which handed West Branch its only defeat. Both St. Mary's and Canfield have 2-0 loop marks and are 4-2 for the season.

INTER-COUNTY LEAGUE games will send unbeaten and unscored upon Lowellville against McDonald and winless Greenford against Western Reserve.

The host Bobcats have suffered six straight setbacks. Western Reserve will have the bigger line and if it can manage to bottle up high scoring Tom Owen of Western Reserve, the Bobcats should be able to pick up their initial victory.

Greenford hasn't been able to muster much in the way of a running attack. Its leading ground-gainer is Ken Wellendorf who has 180 yards in 55 carries. Quarterback Chuck Withers of the Bobcats has completed 22 of 47 passes, eight of them to end Bob Cook.

Beaver Local, which has developed into a state power under the coaching of Jack O'Rourke this year, will go after its seventh straight win Saturday against Fairfield-Waterford. The Rebels looked good in their last outing against Salineville, but the Beavers figure to fatten up their point total which is already second only to Wellsville in the county.

Fullback Carl Hoppel and tackle Ron Westover are expected to be out of the Beaver lineup because of injuries. High scoring halfback Ronnie McLaughlin is healthy and that's bad news enough for Fairfield-Waterford.

UNITED WILL BE at home tomorrow to Carrollton, a team which the Minerva Lions defeated last week, 20-8. A win over Western Reserve last week evened United's record at 3-3. Dan Jenkins set a new school record in that fray when he rushed for 163 yards.

The game at United tomorrow will start at 2:30 p.m. instead of the usual 2 p.m., school officials report.

The North Lima Zippers (4-2) will be at Springfield Local (1-5) Saturday. If North Lima has recovered physically from its 50-6 battering by West Branch last week, this could be a tight game. Springfield has faced some tough teams and Coach Keith West's club is better than its win-loss record indicates.

Salineville will be out to snap a five-game losing streak when it plays at Wayne tonight.

The East Liverpool Potters are favored to map up invading Struthers tonight.

New Manager of Yanks Says He'll Be in Complete Charge

Ralph Houk, 41, Signs for Less Than Half of Casey Stengel's Salary

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Houk was a disciple of the "Old Perfessor," but he is going to run the New York Yankees his own way. The self-assured former Army Raider major made that plain Thursday shortly after he was

Negro Players Complimented By Coach

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Coach Jack Curtice of the Stanford football team referred to opposing Negro players three times in a letter to Stanford alumni Thursday and he said later he meant only to be complimentary.

He expressed surprise that some people took his remarks as racial discrimination.

"I was only complimenting them," Curtice told newsmen. "They have been a thorn in our side all year, those fast colored boys. I'd sure like to get some of them at Stanford."

The Stanford squad has no Negro players.

In writing of Stanford's 34-20 loss to San Jose State last week, Curtice said: "There were three colored boys in their backfield. Johnny Johnson, fullback, has a 9.5 time in the 100; Mack Burton runs the 100 in 9.6 and 9.7. . . With that kind of speed it was quite hard for us to keep up with them. The week before, another colored boy on the Washington team, Charles Mitchell, hurt us badly with his speed. . . The freshman team fumbled nine times the other day and tied the San Jose State frosh 14-14. Again, and this may amaze you, there were three colored boys on their backfield, and they gave our frosh a rough time."

Stanford with five losses and no wins this season, meets UCLA in Los Angeles Saturday night and Curtice commented, "They have some fine Negro players."

named to succeed Casey Stengel as manager of the American League champions.

"Casey was a great manager," said Houk, 41, a coach under Stengel. "I learned a lot from him and I hope some of his knowledge rubbed off on me. But that doesn't necessarily mean I'm going to operate in every respect the way he did."

Houk, who never was more than a third-string catcher in eight years as a player with the Yankees, was signed for a reported $35,000 a year, less than half the $85,000 paid Stengel. The contract—at his request—was limited to a single year.

"If my employers aren't satisfied with the work I've done after my first year, then I don't want to be back the following year," he said.

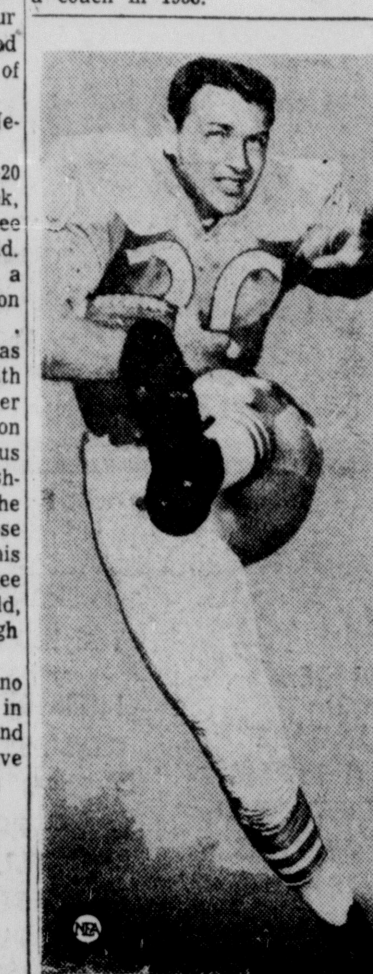

"Furthermore, I was told I'd have complete authority. That's the way it's got to be. You can discount any talk of front office interference. For your information, I'm no 'yes man' and I'm sure they don't want a 'yes man.' To my knowledge there never has been any front office interference."

"I intend to run the ball club my way. I intend to make all the decisions. I'll decide who will play and nobody else. You can rest assured that's the way I'll manage."

Houk, a sturdy, pleasant-faced father of three, is a rugged, cigar-smoking, tobacco-chewing fellow who won a Silver Star for distinguished service with the Rangers during World War II.

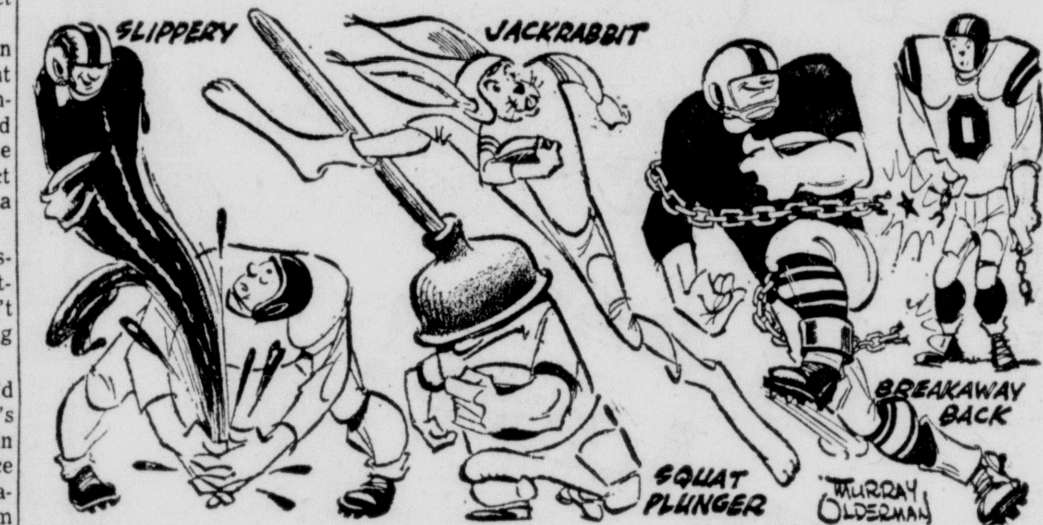

He rose from private to the rank of major with the 89th Reconnaissance Group. He was in one of the first waves to hit Normandy beach on D-Day.

Houk's previous managerial experience was at Denver in the American Association, where he led the Bears to a third place finish and two second place finishes in three years. He was brought back to the Yankees as a coach in 1958.

Aerial Duel Expected In OSU-Wisconsin Tilt

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Football fans could be in for the aerial duel of the season Saturday as Ohio State entertains Wisconsin in a homecoming game before some 83,000. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m. EST.

United Junior High Outlasts Knox For 28-26 Victory

The United Junior High football squad battled behind in the final quarter to nip a big and strong Knox Junior High team, 28-26 Thursday.

A 35-yard run by fleet Gene Metzger was the deciding touchdown. It brought United from a 26-22 deficit.

Knox took a 20-14 lead in a rousing first period. Knox's star back, Jack Benner, opened the scoring with a 53-yard touchdown gallop. United gained the lead minutes later when Randy Engle hit end Homer Sturgeon with a 59-yard TD aerial and Metzger carried over the extra points.

Flashy Benner then put Knox back out in front when he broke loose on an 87-yard TD run. He also carried over the extra points which made the score 14-8 in favor of Knox. Metzger deadlocked the score at 14-14 with an eight-yard run, only to see Benner come back to score from 50 yards out to put Knox on top, 20-14, as the wild-scoring first period came to an end.

Neither team scored in the second quarter.

In the third period, it was Benner again who broke loose on a 35-yard TD run to give Knox a 26-14 margin. United bounced back in the third quarter on a 58-yard pass, Metzger to Sturgeon, and a conversion by Metzger to make the score Knox 26, United 22 at the end of three quarters.

This set the stage for Metzger's winning touchdown in the final period.

The Buckeyes and Badgers, both on the rebound after being beaten last week for the first time, are stingy in giving up rushing territory.

Each has allowed four foes exactly 464 yards on the ground for a 116-yard average—but the Badgers haven't run into anything like Ohio's bulldozing attack which has eaten up 975 in 210 tries.

Wisconsin's strong point is through the air, with sophomore Ron Miller doing the heaving. The 190-pounder has completed 48 of 87 tosses for 713 yards and five touchdowns, and leads the Big Ten in total offense with 384 yards (565 rushing, 328 passing) for two games.

Ohio State's Tom Matte has completed 21 of 37 for 333 yards, and in 65 carries has rushed for 284 more—so this could be a quarrel of the quarterbacks.

Wisconsin, after beating Stanford, Marquette and Purdue, was defeated 28-21 in the last minute by Iowa's powerhouse a week ago. The Bucks, after impressive wins over Southern Methodist, Southern Cal and Illinois, were victimized 24-21 by Purdue. Another loss would belt the loser out of contention in the Big Ten race which Wisconsin won a year ago.

Ohio State coach Woody Hayes, chagrined that his prediction of a conquest over Purdue failed to materialize, was back on the optimistic trail after Thursday's final rugged workout when he said:

"By Saturday I think we'll be a good football team, and we definitely figure to win it."

The Bucks haven't beaten the Badgers in the last two tries. In 1958 they battled to a 7-7 deadlock, and last season Wisconsin was a 12-3 winner as it rolled down the road to the Rose Bowl.

But in nine games with Wisconsin, Hayes has an imposing 6-1-2 record.

Youngstown U. Grid Squad Idle This Week

Youngstown University enjoys an idle weekend this week having completed five games in the eight game schedule.

Coach "Dike" Beede's Penguins return to action Oct. 29 against Southern Connecticut College at New Haven, Conn. Kickoff time for this contest is 10 a.m. The reason for the morning game is that Southern Conn. cannot compete with neighboring Yale which has a game scheduled in the afternoon.

In the five games the YU boys have won three and dropped two. All three victories were on the home field — Eastern Michigan, 27-7, Northern Michigan, 49-26, and Baldwin Wallace, 7-6. Both defeats came on the road — 34-30 to Toledo in the opener and 40-15 to Buffalo last week.

FIGHT RESULTS

Wichita, Kan.—Bill Nielsen, 197, Wichita, knocked out Si Jones, 201, Denver, 4.

Las Vegas, Nev.—Howard King, 199, Reno, Nev., stopped Otis Fuller, 190, Los Angeles, 5.

Ohio U. Seeks to Snap Jinx Against Miami U.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If Ohio University's Bobcats are to retain the upper echelon rating they're enjoying on the smaller college front, they'll have to break an 18-year record Saturday.

The Athens powerhouse, boasting five straight wins (three over major colleges) with a scoring edge of 143-21, goes against Miami's Redskins in the Bobcat homecoming contest.

Miami has lost three of its five, and has been outscored 81-69, but the statistics are discarded when these ancient rivals clash.

Not since 1942 has Ohio U. defeated the Redskins. The 'Cats did it by 39-13 that year to wind up a six-game winning streak over the Oxford crew—but since then only a 7-7 tie in 1953 has offered the hill country team any solace.

The Bobcat-Redskin clash is one of 20 scheduled Saturday for Ohio's smaller colleges, and it's the eye-catcher of the lot. Bowling Green, going after its second straight Mid-American title, entertains Kent State's third-placers in another big one. The Falcons lead the loop with 4-0. Ohio U. is second with 2-0. Kent third with 2-1, and Miami is tied with Marshall for fourth at 1-2.

Here's the slate, with the all-game records:

Kent State (3-1) at Bowling Green (4-1), Oberlin (2-1) at Ohio Wesleyan (3-1), Hiram (0-3) at Otterbein (4-1), Mount Union (1-3) at Denison (2-2), Muskingum (4-0) at Heidelberg (4-1), Wooster (4-0) at Akron (0-4), and Kenyon (1-3) at Marietta (3-2) (night), in the Ohio Conference.

Tulsa at Cincinnati (3-2) in the Missouri Valley Conference. Ohio Northern (5-0) at Bluffton (3-2), Wilmington (0-4) at Findlay (0-5), and Aspland (3-2) at Defiance (1-3), in the Mid Ohio League.

John Carroll 2-1 at Wayne, and Case Tech (1-2) at Allegheny in the Presidents' Conference.

Buffalo U. at Western Reserve (3-0), Tennessee State at Central State (5-0), Geneva at Baldwin Wallace (1-2-1) (night), and Dayton (1-4) at Detroit (night), in non-conference play.

Here's Weekend Slate For State's Top 10

Cincinnati Roger Bacon (6) at Cincinnati Central.

Dipsy-Doodle College Grid Season Hits Halfway Point

No.1 Rated Iowa Faces Stern Test

Mississippi Is 10-Point Favorite To Whip Strong Arkansas Eleven

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The dipsy-doodle college football season hits the halfway point Friday with Iowa and Mississippi, the nation's two top teams, wondering if Lady Luck will continue to smile upon them.

Sports Car Grand Prix This Weekend

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Several of the world's leading professional sports car drivers began practice laps here today, searching out the short, deceptively curved Laguna Seca track where the $20,000 Pacific Grand Prix will be held this weekend.

The drivers include the top three men of this season's international road racing — Australia's Jack Brabham, New Zealand's Bruce McLaren and California's Phil Hill.

Many of the cars entered in the 200-mile feature Sunday have much smaller engine displacements than the average, noncompact family car. But with light bodies, delicate tuning and race track gearing, they can travel as fast as many jets on takeoff.

Brabham, England's Stirling Moss and Californian Dan Gurney are given an edge in pre-race figuring.

Brabham will drive a Cooper Monaco over the 1.9 mile track and Moss and Gurney will wheel Lotus MK XIX Monte Carlis. Rodger Ward, who won the Indianapolis 500 in 1959 and finished second this year, will pilot a Porsche RS 550.

In all, 61 professionals have entered the race.

Saturday there will be five amateur races for production and modified sports cars.

Injuries to Key Personnel May Affect Big Ten Results

By The Associated Press
Injuries to key personnel may play hob Saturday with Big Ten football odds.

Iowa, ranked No. 1 in the AP national poll, has casualty problems as it tries to defend its perfect record against spoiler Purdue.

Salem Junior High Improves But Loses 5th, 22-0

The Salem Junior High gridders turned in their finest performance of the season Thursday night at Reilly Stadium but went down to their fifth straight defeat, 22-0, to a good Alliance State Street team.

Salem Coach Bob Slevin remarked, "I wasn't a bit displeased with our performance. We're coming now."

Alliance scored one touchdown in each of the last three periods. "They scored against us on a wide sweep in the second quarter, but except for a lapse on that play, we held them well," Coach Slevin remarked. Alliance's other touchdowns came on a 22-yard pass and a one-yard plunge.

Standouts for Salem were halfbacks Bob Mellinger and Dick Capel. Wingback Mike DeRienzo did a fine job of blocking.

Larry Joseph handled the quarterbacking chores for Salem in the absence of regular Larry Early who was sick.

Salem's next game is on Wednesday at East Liverpool against Eastgate.

BOWLING

Leo Wachsmith's 606 series with a high single game of 248 was the top performance turned in by bowlers in the Sportsman League at Saxon Lanes last night.

Besides his 248, Wachsmith posted games of 161 and 197.

Other high scores were turned in by Harold Wuchter, 604-191-203-213; Ray Thompson, 571-224; Lee Hahn, 565-231; John Detell, 559; Galen Berger, 551; Mike Volpe, 549, 215; Joe Wolf, 546; and Rudy Hrovatic, 544. Lee Votaw had a 215 single game and Dick Briggs posted a 207.

Paul's Pennzoll No. 1 had high series, 2635, while Rodis Gin Mill had high team single game, 921.

In the Ladies Thursday Night League, Karen Paxson led the way with a 516 series and 219 single game. Kate Paine posted a 513 set and Stella Loop settled for a ning through the minds of the other unbeaten including five in the latest Associated Press poll after the beating "form" has taken so far.

The Big Ten, with Iowa (3-0) at the top, and 4-0 overall, continues to lead the "who's it gonna be this time" parade. The Hawks meet 10th ranked Purdue while Minnesota, ranked sixth with a 4-0 mark and a 2-0 conference record takes on Michigan in the 61st Little Brown Jug game.

Then ninth ranked Ohio State, victim of Purdue last week, meets Wisconsin, which fell in the final minute to the Hawkeyes.

Mississippi 5-0 goes into the Southwest Conference to play Arkansas (4-1) in a match of power vs. speed. Ole Miss is a 10-point favorite to beat the Razorbacks, who upset Texas 24-23 last week.

Third-ranked Syracuse tries to get back the prestige it frittered away in winning its first four when it meets winless West Virginia.

Navy and Penn conclude a 45-game tradition in Philadelphia. The Middies, ranked fourth with a 5-0 mark are considered a solid challenge to Syracuse's claim as the East's best.

Missouri (No. 5) has a Big Eight battle with Iowa State. Baylor, ranked seventh with a 4-0 mark, has a Southwest Conference date with Texas A & M. Washington (No. 8) begins its first Saturday without All-American quarterback Bob Schloredt, who suffered a broken collar bone last week, when it plays tough Oregon State (4-0).

The television game of the day pits Notre Dame and Northwestern, each 1-3, beginning at 1:15 p.m. Eastern Standard Time over ABC-TV.

Ivy League-leading Yale outsider Colgate while runnerups Princeton and Dartmouth can tie for the lead with victories over Cornell and Harvard respectively.

Royals Capture Cage Victory

'Big O' Hoops 28 Against New York

NEW YORK (AP) — After two games and 49 points Oscar Robertson is happy that he chose to continue his profession in the National Basketball Association.

"I like playing in the NBA," said the former Cincinnati All-American after scoring 28 points in the Royals 113-105 come-from-behind victory over the New York Knickerbockers Thursday night. He tallied 21 in his pro debut Wednesday night at Cincinnati.

"So far there hasn't been too much pressure on me," said Big O. "That's because the Royals have such a fine shooter in Jack (Twyman) plus others who also can score."

Twyman scored 23 as the Royals chalked up their second straight victory.

California's All-America Darrall Imhoff played only seven minutes in his pro debut with New York and scored two points.

In an exhibition Wilt Chamberlain scored 59 points to lead Philadelphia to a 150-128 victory over Syracuse at Litzitz, Pa.

Semifinals of Golf S'tated Today At Pinehurst, N.C.

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Tom Robbins of Pinehurst meets Eugene Pittman of Washington, D.C., and James McAlvin of Lake Forest, Ill., plays J. Walcott Brown of Sea Girt, N.J., today in the semifinals of the North and South Senior Golf Tournament.

Robbins, 67, won his quarterfinal match Thursday from Col. Martin Lindgrove of Morristown, N.J., 4 and 2.

The 62-year-old Pittman won 1-up from Frank Ross of West Hartford, Conn., while McAlvin, 59, downed L.W. Ramsey of New Castle, Ind., 1-up on the 20th hole and Brown, 57, ousted Frank Stevens of New Rochelle, N.Y., 4 and 3.

Brown was the 1958 winner. Robbins won in 1956.

QUESTION: On a kickoff, what can players of the kicking team specifically do and not do?—William Krelch.

ANSWER: All players except the holder of the ball must be onside when the ball is kicked. After the ball has reached the receiving team's restraining line (the 50-yard line) the kicking team is eligible to recover the ball anywhere within the playing field. In college rules, if a kicking team recovers the ball in the receiving team's end zone, it is a TD.

If a kicking team player should go out of bounds, he may not touch the ball until it is touched by a player of the receiving team. No member of the kicking team may interfere with any receiver who could reach the kick in flight.

After it has touched the ground or a receiving team player he can play the ball and recover it. After the ball is kicked, the kicking team players can use their hands to ward off any of the receiving team players attempting to block them in order to get at the ball for the receiver.

If a kickoff is caught or recovered by a player of the kicking team, it can never be advanced, and becomes dead at the spot of recovery.

Ted Williams Named 'Comeback of Year'

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Williams, who bowed out of baseball this season after an illustrious career, had another accolade added to his imposing list today. He was named the American League comeback player of the year for 1960.

Williams was a decisive choice in the annual Associated Press poll of baseball writers. The Boston Red Sox outfielder received 96 of the 182 ballots cast. Runner-up was Roy Sievers of the Chicago White Sox with 34 votes.

Tempestuous Ted, who broke in to the majors in 1939 and served two hitchhikes in the armed forces, finished with a flourish at the age of 42. In his final at bat on Sept. 2, the 521st home run of his career.

Beset by shoulder and neck pains, Williams' average plummeted to .254 last year. He had only 272 official at bats and produced just 10 home runs. This past season Williams batted .316 and hit 29 homers in 310 official trips.

In 1959 with the Senators Sievers batted .242, hit 21 homers and drove in 49 runs. This past season traded to Chicago Roy took over the regular first base job from Ted Kluszewski and hit .295. He accounted for 28 home runs and 93 RBI.

Al Smith of the White Sox ranked third in the comeback poll and drew 22 ballots. A .237 hitter in 1959, he had a .315 average this past season — second highest in the American League.

Leetonia Junior High Halts Greenford, 16-0

The Leetonia Junior High football squad defeated host Greenford Junior High 16-0 Thursday.

Coseno and Orr tallied the Leetonia touchdowns. Coseno plunged over from the one-yard line in the second quarter and Orr dashed 60 yards to paydirt in the fourth period. VanFossen accounted for the other two points when he carried over the conversion after the first touchdown.

Greenford wound up its season with a 2-3 record. Leetonia defeated Lisbon earlier in the season.

DeWitt Resigns As Detroit Boss

Tigers Hope End Of Upheavals Near

DETROIT (AP) — A return to stability instead of continued upheavals is the Detroit Tigers' aim now that their front office rift has been settled with the departure of Bill DeWitt as president.

DeWitt resigned Thursday in an anticipated move and new owner John E. Fetzer established himself in a one-man command. The departing president spurned Fetzer's offer to become assistant to the president.

Fetzer promised to end the changes that have brought a rotation of Tiger presidents, general managers and field bosses since 1952. The new Tiger president — every-year policy" that has turned into a "who's running us now?" outfit.

Whoever Fetzer selects to pilot the 1961 Tigers will be the eighth manager in 10 seasons. Fetzer appointed the former general manager, Rick Ferrell, as his emissary to screen prospective pilots.

The Tiger managerial job was vacated when Joe Gordon quit Oct. 2 to become pilot at Kansas City. Gordon had held the job only two months, coming from Cleveland in the DeWitt-engineered managerial deal for Jimmie Dykes.

Gordon's sudden departure after signing a Detroit contract for 1961 caught DeWitt unaware. The ex-manager blamed DeWitt with "front office interference," the same charge made by Dykes after he left Detroit.

Ready for Browns Sunday

Coach Shaw Says Eagles Have Improved

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Buck Shaw expects his Philadelphia Eagles to make a better showing against the Cleveland Browns this Sunday—but he still holds a high regard for the Browns' Jim Brown and Bobby Mitchell.

After the Browns whipped the Eagles 41-24 in Philadelphia in the National Football League opener last month, Shaw attributed the loss to poor playing by his team rather than to the superiority of Cleveland.

"The Browns are a much improved team," Shaw said Thursday in a telephone interview. "They are the best balanced team we've seen. Mitchell and Brown don't need fine blocking but they have been getting it."

"I know our tacklers looked bad in that first game, but that's what fellows like Brown and Mitchell can do to you, especially Mitchell. If you let him get around that corner you're in trouble."

Shaw explained that the first big task for the Eagles Sunday was to harness Brown and Mitchell, but that the Browns' passing couldn't be ignored.

"The Browns' passing is good and made better by that strong inside and outside running," the veteran coach said. "That defense is solid, too. The linebackers are great. They can make up for a lot of mistakes by the others."

"No question about it, we have a tough one coming up, but we are in better shape for it."

The Philadelphia coach said he has strengthened his defensive backfield with the return of Jim Carr and the acquisition of Don Burroughs and Joe Robb, the latter a defensive end.

Cleveland will set its defensive strategy on stopping the passing of Norm Van Brocklin. The Dutchman's favorite target, fleet Tom McDonald, has been having knee trouble but he'll play.

Meanwhile, the Browns worked on defense Thursday. Two injured players, Ray Renfro and Dick Schaftrath, rested. The latter will take his turn as the offense gets further polishing today.

Lamar Tech College of Beaumont, Tex., has won six straight National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics tennis titles and three straight NAIA golf crowns.

Young Blasts Nixon

CLEVELAND (AP)—Stephen M. Young, Ohio's junior Democratic senator, called Vice President Richard M. Nixon "an irresponsible, slippery character not qualified to be president of the United States."

Young made the statement Thursday night in brief remarks at a $50-a-plate dinner, sponsored by Citizens for Kennedy, at which Connecticut Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff was the main speaker.

Pair Given 10 Years For Escape Attempt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A federal court trial for two Pittsburgh area men ended Thursday with 10-year terms for both and a stern lecture from Judge Mell G. Underwood.

A jury deliberated only about an hour and a half before finding the pair guilty on two charges connected with an attempted escape from the federal section of Columbus City Prison last June.

Judge Underwood promptly sentenced Daniel J. Koenig, 27, and Charles P. Waugaman, 26, to five years in federal prison on each count. He designated that the two five-year sentences for each man run consecutively. In each case, one sentence is for conspiracy to escape and the other for attempted escape.

Underwood, who overruled a motion for a new trial, told the jurors:

"I think your verdict is 100 per cent correct. It would have been a rank miscarriage of justice to have acquitted these two defendants. There are some people that cannot live in a civilized society."

They think that crime is the proper road."

Koenig and Waugaman were awaiting trial on charges of robbing a bank in Yorkville, Ohio, when the escape attempt was disclosed. The Yorkville bank was robbed of $38,000 on Aug. 22, 1959. They will be tried on bank robbery charges here Nov. 14.
